Helpful Animals

Humans have always lived with animals. Pictures of humans with dogs have been found on cave walls. These cave pictures were painted thousands of years ago.

Today, many people keep animals as pets. If you have a pet, you have to look after it. However, did you know that some animals can look after their owners too?

Guide dogs

The best-known animal helpers are probably guide dogs. They help people who are blind or who cannot see well. Every year in the UK, 850 guide dogs start their jobs after training for over 12 months.

Guide dogs help their owners to walk safely by making sure they do not bump into things or step into the road. The best guide dogs have to be obedient so they are easier to train. They also have to be friendly.

11. How many guide dogs start their jobs every year in the UK?

12. Look at the text.
How do guide dogs help their owners to walk safely?

Hearing dogs

Dogs can help people in other ways. Hearing dogs help people who are deaf or who cannot hear well. They can let their owner know when they hear sounds like alarms, doorbells or phones ringing. Hearing dogs need to be trained for a long time before they can start their work, just like guide dogs.

Guide horses

Guide dogs are not suitable for everyone who is blind or cannot see well. Some people are allergic to dogs or frightened of them. Luckily, other animals, such as miniature horses, can help. A miniature horse is a type of horse that is quite small. People can't use normal-sized horses because they are too big to go in their houses.

15. Some blind people cannot have guide dogs.

Why not?

Write one reason.

16. Find and copy one word that means the same as 'small'.

Miniature horses are sometimes called guide horses because they can do many of the tasks that guide dogs do. They are strong so they can carry things for their owners using a special basket called a pannier.
